Our Memory Vertebrae

step inside to walk the path of memory a push and pull, subharmonic state to move like the tides, and burn like an inferno pinging and ponging between our ears a recursive stream of letters; our postal service to recognize the Current Blue Flag that hums a tune let's build a bridge from my spine an anchor that hold true and strong breathe in the very same gravity we're told is infinite nothing

'nothing' is still a name that can't be lost, memory is a pathway that cannot be undone

Macroscopic Magisteria put one wet hand in front of a light watch the drops drip light fed drops pause at each finger tip glistening, imbued with a great shine now watch, as these cosmic constants coexist light, water, and gravity all experience death of ego ease into a lazy, inverted stroll find serenity as 3 minds bend into union; simulated singularity

merged, melded, married this is the proposal you never expected

Language Games: The Allitogrammic Door the allure of the threshold's doors; hypnotized & cherished your mesmerizing messianic maelstrom a recursive revolving reality one amalgamation of two dimensions now this ladder flirts with the lateral when the directionless decides to direct its infant gaze upwards towards the heavens, downwards towards the soil one cup of sinistrodextralism, one cup dextrosinistratism you are witnessed with reverence I hear your enigmatic score; I stay-with my boundless boustrophedonic bokeh

This forever Yes is my vow
